

I have a complaint regarding FM station WDCG, Raleigh, NC
This is regarding the on-air behavior of Bob Dumas & Madison Lane on September 22 & 23, 2003. Dumas and Lane engaged in talk between themselves, and on-air callers that discusses, and incites, the premeditated injury of cyclists on the roads of North Carolina. They have incited violation of the law.

I think this incident can be related to the fact that this station is owned by Clear Channel Comm. which is not responsible to the local listeners. It is alleged that CCC-owned radio stations in Texas & Ohio also used a theme of inciting violence against bikers in talk shows. The above problem is an example of what happens when a large company like CCC is allowed to own too many stations -- the main concern is for profits, and not whether programs are a benefit to the local markets served by the stations. In any event, station WDCG should be cited or punished in some appropriate way to send a message from the FCC that this sort of programming is unacceptable behaviour.
